2. Government note with satisfaction that the work of the Muzrai Department has to a great extent been standardised in recent years and the body of rules and practice relating to different classes of institutions has been codified resulting in the better management of the institutions. They are also glad to observe that by fixing scales of income and expenditure, a certain measure of control has been obtained over the finances of the more important religious and charitable institutions and that the debit balances in the temple of Melkote and in the Sivaganga Mutt have been wiped out. Necessary steps should be taken to wipe out the debit balance in the Sri Ranganathaswami Temple at Seringapatam.
